Have you noticed? In this busy world, it's not easy to encourage the next generation to maintain a connection to their Hungarian heritage but, it is important work. We don't know how our efforts will play out, but there are multiple ways we can sow those seeds. There is no predicting when or how they will take root, but they often do. Sometimes it is after years of dormancy. Once they take root and grow, there seems to be no stopping them! Hungarian culture looks different in every family, and it changes a bit with every generation. Visit TheHungarianStore.com to see what classes and products we offer to help you as you share Hungarian heritage with the next generation. Questions? Call us at 1-800-786-7851.

What's your story?

Did you grown up in a strong Hungarian community with all the delightful memories of harvest dances, a neighborhood full of other Hungarians, and delicious church dinners? Was Hungarian your first language? Did your Hungarian speaking grandparents live with you? Were the adults in your life tight-lipped about their life in Hungary for reasons you don't know? Or did you just recently discover you have Hungarian heritage because of a DNA kit?

Think about your story and consider writing down your experiences. Did you spend a summer in Hungary with your relatives? Did you only learn English when you went to school? Did you take a trip with your mother, father, or grandparent to Hungary and see their village? Take a quick assessment of where you have been and where you are, and then think about where you want to be. I don't know where you are on your path of learning about your Hungarian heritage, but wherever you are is a great place to start. We may each be in different places on our journey, but we are all headed in the same direction. At Hungarian Living, we want to help you achieve your goals. Now is a great time to discover, celebrate, and share Hungarian heritage!

This year, our catalog is FULL of Hungarian words! Do you know what they mean? Check your knowledge! Use this QR code to visit the translation page, or visit HungarianLiving.com/the-catalog-words

Subscribe to our E-newsletters

Each week we send e-newsletters about Hungarian heritage, organizations, inventions, genealogy, language, travel, recipes, and do-it-yourself creative inspiration! If you want more Hungarian encouragement in your life, we would love to help! Sign up at HungarianLiving.com and pick the weeks that align with your interests!

Our Recent Changes

We hope our new names and websites will better serve you as you seek to discover, celebrate, and share Hungarian heritage!

Our online store is now called The Hungarian Store! We want to help those who care about Hungarian heritage but may not know what “Magyar” means. This replaces the Magyar Marketing ~ The Hungarian Store website. It will take some getting used to, even for us! But, I know my mom would approve. She was always looking for ways to help others maintain a connection with their Hungarian heritage.

Looking for resources on cooking, folk art, history, or language? Hungarian Living is the spot for you! Check out our recipes and projects and listen to our podcast at HungarianLiving.com. We want to help you encourage more Hungarian Living in your everyday life. Our goal is to give you the resources, encouragement, and inspiration you need to dig deeper into your Hungarian heritage to take you to the next level!

A podcast is an online audio program. We started the Hungarian Living podcast in order to share the interesting perspectives and stories of the wonderful people we meet! It just didn't seem right to keep all these treasures to ourselves. You can find the Hungarian Living podcast on your favorite podcast app or on HungarianLiving.com. You can also listen and subscribe on our YouTube channel by visiting YouTube.com/HungarianLiving.

Our tours to Hungary and Transylvania are full of wonderful experiences. We always include some time in Budapest on our tours, but I really think the magic is in the countryside, so most of our time is spent there. We love visiting with folk artisans, and we make an effort to stop in to learn about small family operations. If you know the village where your family came from, there is always the option of adding a special trip to that area. More details on page 12.

Hungarian Language Learning

Learning Hungarian is such a challenge! Even though my brothers and I grew up hearing the melodious sounds of Hungarian in our home, we weren't required to become fluent. I don't know the reason why, and it doesn't really matter. I don't fault my parents for not requiring us to speak Hungarian. Our ancestors came to the United States from Hungary at the turn of the 20th century. By the time I came along, it was at least 40 years later. Even so, the Hungarian language is alive in our family line, albeit imperfectly. Two of my children have formally studied Hungarian in Hungary, and even my grandbabies know a few words! I think my great grandparents would be pretty surprised that even their great, great grandchildren know some Hungarian!

When we lived in Hungary for six months in 1973, I had to attend school. The kind of book pictured above is very typical of what Hungarian schoolchildren use, even today.

Our Hungarian Language Learning Opportunities

We offer several great ways to sharpen your Hungarian language skills. Our teaching partners are knowledgeable, enjoyable, and skilled at providing a variety of ways to help you connect with the language. It is extremely difficult to learn Hungarian without an instructor you can meet with on a weekly basis!

Hungarian Language Classes

Whether you are brand new to Hungarian or have some experience but want to strengthen your skills, sign up! All our classes are online. Most courses are between 12-14 weeks long and utilize the MagyarOK books, developed in Pécs, Hungary. We currently have day and evening classes and a few on the weekend. We offer classes at a variety of levels.

Hungarian Dialogue Sessions

These sessions are designed to help early language learners gain confidence by speaking pre-set dialogues. Students listen to, read, and speak the weekly dialogues in class. This is a great way to grow your vocabulary related to conversations with family members and friends about hobbies, work, ordering in restaurants, etc.

Hungarian Language Clinic

Do you have a lot of questions about how the grammar works? Do you want to meet with a linguist who knows Hungarian well and can explain it to you? Our weekly clinic is an open class where students can submit their grammar questions to be answered by the instructor in class.

My great grandparents all came to the U.S. from Hungary between 1890 - 1924 so their families could have a “better” life. They were committed to being American but held on tightly to their Hungarian roots. It wasn't easy for them to leave their homeland, journey to a new place and navigate a complex language. Yet, even in the middle of all of those challenges, they still kept the Hungarian heritage alive within our family, and it has continued into the fifth generation!

I'm so thankful my parents were intentional about raising us surrounded by a strong Hungarian influence. It is something we have tried to pass on to our children and grandchildren. Of course, each generation is becoming a little more diverse, but that is also fun. We like to honor all of our ancestors by including few food and cultural traditions from each country.

These two cuties are a lot of fun! I don't expect they will be fluent in Hungarian, but they do already know several Hungarian words!

Our Hungarian History & Genealogy Learning Opportunities

Researching Hungarian genealogy may have a lot of twists and turns, but progress can be made! We offer a variety of learning opportunities in both genealogy and history. Visit HungarianLiving.com as well as TheHungarianStore.com for more information on what is coming up!

Our goal is to help you:

Understand the overview of Hungarian history, including border changes and the general patterns of Hungarian migration to the United States. Who came? Why? Where did they settle?

Learn how to read Hungarian genealogy statistical (birth, marriage, and death) records and use these records to identify your Hungarian immigrant ancestors.

Discover which records and strategies are useful for researching Hungarian records in your village of origin in Hungary, even if the village is now outside of modern-day Hungary.

Here is a photo of our son next to my father. Since my father died when I was young, Landon never met his grandpa, but you can see there is a bit of resemblance!

Hungarian Folk Art & Music

Throughout my life, there were important seeds sown that would encourage me to grow in understanding of Hungarian heritage. We had Hungarian folk art and paintings by Hungarian artists in our home. Music was also a big part of our family life. We knew quite a few Hungarian folk songs, even though we might not have known what all the words meant.

Do you recall your parents or grandparents singing songs in Hungarian? There may be several Hungarian songs that are a part of the oral tradition in your family. Maybe you remember singing them as a child but have forgotten the words or the melodies. Do you have some pieces of embroidery from your mother or grandmother? Did your father or grandfather do some wood carving? Do you have some interests or inclinations that you can trace back to someone in your family line?

Music was very important to my mom. She played organ for a variety of churches in our community. My oldest brother followed in her footsteps.

Our Hungarian Folk Art & Music Opportunities

If you are like me, and you don't live near a Hungarian community, you know you how important it is to get connected with those folks who lovingly share what they know about Hungarian culture. We have been meeting some wonderful people who have special skills and are happy to share them.

We are excited about our upcoming plans for 2022. If you want to learn particular folk songs or folk art techniques, we would love to hear your special requests. Please email Liz@MagyarMarketing.com and let us know what interests you. Visit HungarianLiving.com and sign up for our newsletters so you are the first to know about our upcoming projects. We will be offering them soon at TheHungarianStore.com!

This little sweetheart joined us in August 2021. In 2022, my goal is to teach the grandbabies several Hungarian folk songs so they have more of the Hungarian language tucked in their brains!

Hungarian Cooking & Baking

I am pretty sure food is the last bastion in cultural heritage. So, that means it is the first that can be rebuilt! Many families have kept Hungarian food traditions through the years by letting people in the kitchen to help cook. It grows confidence and passes along important experiences and skills. Were you encouraged to be in the kitchen?

When I moved away from the Hungarian community, I lost the reminders and encouragement to cook Hungarian food. I don't cook Hungarian food every day or even every week, but over the past eight or so years I have been very intentional about baking and cooking more Hungarian food. These days, I challenge myself to cook something Hungarian at least once a month.

What do you call these little pastries? They have different names depending on their shape and your family's food traditions. Whatever your family calls them, I am sure delicious is one of the words!

Our Hungarian Cooking and Baking Classes

Are you too intimidated to try new recipes by yourself? Want to learn how to cook a delicious Hungarian meal or how to decorate beautiful Hungarian honey cakes? From savory to sweet, there are many wonderful Hungarian foods to discover! Over the past 18 months, we have co-hosted some great online baking and cooking classes with Tünde Dugantsi. Join us to learn how to make szaloncukor, mézeskalács, habcsók, beigli, and more. It's a great way to learn some new recipes while you have a coach in the kitchen. We cook each recipe from start to finish together.

Check out TheHungarianStore.com for all the details on our Hungarian cooking classes! We will be making szaloncukor and walnut and poppyseed rolls again this year as well as a number of other treats!

Hungarian Style Meats

Made in the U.S.A. All weights are approximate. Want to send a special gift? See page 14-15 for a variety of gift packages!

Do you live near a Hungarian butcher shop? If not, I encourage you to seek one out while you are traveling around. The aroma is amazing! For me, it is almost intoxicating, and it definitely takes me on a walk down memory lane.

Hungarian Style Bacon

(szalonna) ready-to-eat (2 packages, 1.5 lbs. total) Technically, you can just slice and eat this, but you can also cook it down and add it to any dish that would benefit from a little bacon. [FSZ2 $22]

Téli & Csabai Salami

Téli means winter in Hungarian and is a hard salami. The csabai is full of flavor and has paprika in it, and it is definitely my favorite (2 packages, 2 lbs. total). Choose from 2 téli, 2 csabai, or one of each. [FS2 $25]

Gyulai Kolbász

(2 packages, 1.5 lb. total) Choose from 2 mild, 2 hot, or one of each. [F4002 $22]

Gyulai Stick Sausage 20" long, peel and eat kolbász. (2 packages, 2 lbs total). Choose from 2 mild, 2 hot, or one of each. [FNS2 $22]

Cserkész Kolbász This is a great appetizer with cheese and crackers, but we also use it in scrambled eggs, with rice, and on pizza. (1 package, 2 lbs. total).

Sausage Sticks

1.5 lb. A wonderful, portable snack! Great for day trips and road trips! Choose from 6 mild, 6 hot, or 3 of each.

[FSS6 $20]

Nokedli/Spaetzle

Don't like the mess of making your own dumplings? This is a great solution! Boil just as much as you need. (Imported from Germany) 1 bag.

17.6 oz. [FSN $7]

The noodles listed below are imported from Hungary. Individual packages are 8.8 ounces each unless otherwise noted. Each order is a 4 pack of the same kind.

Egg Farvel Tarhonya We like to sauté an onion and add the tarhonya until it browns just a little. Add water or chicken broth until it is soft. [F574 $13]

Csiga Traditionally, these were handmade and still are in some places. Machine made. 7 oz. [F584 $13]

Thread Cérna Very fine and perfect for a clear broth meat soup. [F564 $13]

Diamond Zabkocka Perfect for a clear broth soup. [F554 $13]

Long Broad Csusza for casseroles. [F594 $13]

Large Squares Nagy Kocka for cabbage and noodles or cottage cheese noodles. [F604 $13]

Alphabet soup noodles. For a little bit of fun! [F544 $13]

Special Edge scalloped soup noodles. [F614 $13]

Pictured above is the soup we always had on Sundays. We called it "Hungarian Soup," and the broth was amazing. My mom always served it with thread noodles. We loved the bone marrow, too!

Hungarian Specialities

Hungarian Christmas

Hungarian Christmas Traditions

In November 2019, we had a wonderful Christmas Market Tour in Hungary. Even though we visited several Christmas markets, the season didn't feel as commercialized as it does in the U.S. I was also delightfully surprised at the emphasis on Advent, which starts on the first Sunday in December.

In Hungary, the Christmas tree is typically decorated on December 24, and there are some wonderful traditions during this special season. I think one of my favorites is the Hungarian Christmas carols. When I was growing up, members of one of the Hungarian churches in Youngstown, Ohio would come by and sing Hungarian Christmas carols outside our home on a cold December evening. I didn't understand all the words, but I still loved it!

Recently, I have been learning more about decorating Hungarian honey cakes. It has been a lot of fun, and I don't need to do it perfectly in order to have a good time!

Who is Mikulás?

The Hungarian Santa, Mikulás, visits children on December 6, St. Nicholas Day. Children shine their shoes and put them in the windowsill on the evening of December 5. If the child has been good, Mikulás visits in the early morning hours and fills the shoes with goodies — traditionally candies, tangerines, walnuts, apples, dates, and chocolate Mikulás figurines. Many children also receive small toys and books.

Szaloncukor: Hungarian Christmas Candy

Hungarians hang these wrapped candies on the Christmas tree. Traditionally, the children play a trick on their parents; they carefully unwrap the candies hanging on the tree and eat them. Afterwards, they stuff and re-wrap the empty candy wrapper and hang it back on the tree!

How will you celebrate?

This year, see where you can add Hungarian traditions to your Christmas season. Maybe it involves baking some special Hungarian treats or learning a Hungarian Christmas carol. Or maybe Mikulás will pay a visit to some people you love. Find the ways that resonate the most with you and spread Hungarian cheer!

Check out the szaloncukor flavors for this year on page 18 of this catalog! Don't forget to check TheHungarianStore.com for a wide variety of Christmas gifts.
